IMPORTANT

Share price evolution on the stock market is unpredictable. When making your decision please remember that the price of Airbus shares can go up or down. Airbus cannot provide you with any financial/tax advice. If you are in any doubt about whether to participate in the 2025 ESOP you should speak to an independent financial/tax advisor.

1. Taxation at the time of acquisition of Airbus shares

In the ESOP 2025, you select a Package which allows you to acquire a number of Airbus shares (Acquisition Shares) and additional Airbus shares (Matching Shares) allocated for free.

- You make a taxable benefit corresponding to the difference between the value of all shares delivered to you (Acquisition Shares and Matching Shares) and the purchase price that you paid:

$$\text{Taxable benefit} = \text{market value of the share} \times \text{total number of shares received} - \text{price you paid for the package}$$

For tax purposes, the market value is the lowest listed price of Airbus SE share on the last day of the subscription period.

This benefit is considered employment income and subject to tax at progressive rates currently ranging from 32% to 52% (at 32% local tax rate). Social security contributions (7% on annual income up to SEK 650,400 for 2025, i.e., a maximum of SEK 45,500) are included in the tax rates.

You are responsible for reporting the taxable acquisition gain in your Swedish tax return in the year following the year in which the shares were acquired. As your employer has an obligation to report the employment income to the Swedish Tax Agency, on the monthly employer tax return, the gain should be pre-printed in your tax return. You will, however, be responsible for checking that the information has been reported in your tax return and thereby to the Swedish Tax Agency.

The amount of the tax and social security contributions owed by you will be withheld by your employer from your salary during the month following the purchase of the shares. Any difference between the tax withheld and the final amount of tax due will be settled as residual tax or a tax refund.

- Additionally, if you opted for payment of your purchase price in 3 installments, you benefit from a facility offered by your employer.

Such benefit is taxable as an interest free loan. The taxable amount will be taxed as employment income calculated by applying a standard public interest rate (currently ~2%) plus 1.5% on the amount of your advance.

Your employer will proceed with tax withholding from your salary.

2. Taxation during the holding of your Airbus shares

You are required to hold your shares for a period of at least three years. As long as you will continue to hold your Airbus shares, you will be taxable with respect to dividends if any are distributed by Airbus SE.

Dividends will be subject to a dividend withholding tax in the Netherlands and will then be taxable in your country.

a. Taxation of dividends in the Netherlands

Under Dutch domestic law, dividends paid by Airbus will be subject to a withholding tax in the Netherlands at the time the dividend is declared by the general meeting of shareholders. The rate of the Dutch dividend withholding tax is 15%.

A supporting document (Tax Voucher) evidencing the payment of Dutch withholding tax is made available each year on SHARINBOX – Société Générale website.

b. Taxation of dividends in Sweden

Under Swedish individual income tax law, dividends are taxed at the flat rate of 30%.

A tax credit should be available for the withholding tax paid in the Netherlands from tax on capital income.

You must declare the dividend income on your annual Swedish tax return to be filed.

3. Taxation at sale of your Airbus shares

You will not be able to sell or transfer the shares acquired in the ESOP 2025 for a period of three years. In practice, you will be able to sell your shares from April 3, 2028. End of the holding period is not a taxable event.

Taxation will take place at the time of sale of your shares, if you make a capital gain.

In case of capital loss, such losses may be offset (in whole or in part) against other capital income during the year. Any remaining capital losses are deductible at 70% in the capital income category. A deficit in the capital income category will result in a tax reduction (from e.g. tax on employment income) of 30% on the deficits up to SEK 100,000 and a reduction of 21% on the portion of the deficits exceeding SEK 100,000.

The capital gain is equal to the difference between the gross sale proceeds on the date of the sale and the cost basis of the shares minus the transaction costs (e.g. broker's fees).

$$\text{Taxable benefit} = \text{sale proceeds} - (\text{the price you paid for the shares} + \text{the taxable amount for the discount}) - \text{broker's commissions}$$

The capital gain is taxed at the flat rate of 30%.

You are responsible for reporting any capital gain or loss in your Swedish tax return.

You are responsible for paying this capital gain tax.
